UPCOMING SUVCW EVENTS

CAMP EVENTS

Flag Day at Nevada Capital

Saturday, June 14th – 1000 Hours
Nevada State Capital

The Annual Flag Day ceremonies and United States Army's birthday celebration will take place at the Nevada Veterans Memorial Wall located on the SE side of the Blasdel Building (209 E. Musser St, Carson City). All are encouraged to come and to wear your uniform if you please. Afterwards, we will likely walk over to Carson Street for lunch.

Nevada State Veteran's Memorial

De Goyler Horse and Bull Bash

Saturday June 28th – 0900 Hrs.
Fallon, NV

Camp 25 will have an outreach event at the 11th Annual De Goyler Horse and Bull Bash on June 28th in Fallon NV. The event draws about 4000 people and the De Goyler family sounds eager to work with us now and in the future. Cody Ehlers will set-up starting early in the morning and would like the first crew of brothers to be there at 0900. If there is enough support from the Camp, we can have more than one crew. We will get two free rodeo tickets which will be raffled amongst the volunteers. Contact Cody codyehlers.ld@gmail.com to sign up via email or contact this editor for his phone number. Please plan to wear your uniform and bring items to display (items optional). The Nevada Civil War Volunteers will also be participating, and we will be posted along with their Union camp. The location is the 3C Event Complex on Scheckler Rd. (NV 117) and US 95.

It will be hot so please plan accordingly. Cody will bring an ice chest with water.

July 4th Liberty Celebration

Friday July 4th, 26th – 0930 Hrs.
Nevada State Museum

Join in with the Sons of the American Revolution to honor our founders and the principles that our Civil War ancestors fought to preserve. Listen to the annual reading the Declaration of Independence and participate in ringing Nevada's replica of the Liberty Bell. Members of the public will be able to ring Nevada's Liberty Bell in honor of their patriots that fell or served for America. Fifty-seven replica bells were cast by the Treasurer Department in the 1950's and Nevada was given number five. The State Museum is located at 600 N. Carson Street, Carson City, NV, and afterwards we will likely have lunch on Carson Street.

CAMP 25 NEWS

Bowers Mansion Opening

On May 17th we turned out to support the Washoe Park Service at the Bower's Mansion annual seasonal opening day. It was cold, windy and there were a few showers, but most pressed on. We displayed Nevada Civil War era maps and memorabilia in the library, where Commander Davis answered questions and shared with the public our Civil War history. Cody Ehler displayed antique and reproduction arms of the 1850s and 60's. Rob Stoecklin and Roger Linscott also supported along with their wives.

It was most exciting to speak with the youngsters and their parents about our history and the SUVCW.

Memorial Day at the GAR Cemetery

We faithful turned out to the GAR Cemetery on Memorial Day to honor those veterans that gave their all.

Junior Vice Commander Dalton organized and led the day which included; besides Camp 25, Reno's American Legion Dunkle Post 1, Troop 1 of the Boy Scouts of America, the Woman's Relief Corp, federal dignitaries, and the public. Again, this year the Boy Scouts did a stellar job with the flag duties. Senior Vice Commander Perdue of Camp 25 gave the opening remarks followed by the pray by the Post 1's Chaplin. The ceremony was closed out by a 21-gun salute performed by members of Camp 25 and the local chapter of the SAR (also SUVCW members), then soulful taps finish the morning. After the GAR Ceremony the honor guard fire a salute at the Hilltop Cemetery and then at the Knights of Pythias Cemetery, to close out the morning

Quote from the Day

"The war is over; the rebels are our countrymen again."

General Ulysses S. Grant

OUR CIVIL WAR ANCESTORS

My Civil War army ancestor is not typical of the soldier in blue fighting against Confederates. Frederick Padden was born September 20, 1823 in Vermont to Scots-Irish immigrants. Little is known of his early years, but on November 8, 1846 he married Julia Ann Robinson in Springfield Corners, Penn. and together they had seven children.

On September 21, 1854, Frederick and Julia Ann Padden settled into an abandoned shanty and became the first permanent settlers in what would become the town named for him, Fredericksburg, Chickasaw County, Iowa. He soon built a hotel, known as the Fountain House, into which he moved his family. His brother, Lewis Padden, built the first store in the autumn of 1855, and Frederick Padden built the first sawmill in 1856, the same year the post office was established with Frederick Padden as the first postmaster.

During the summer of 1857, Frederick Padden built a second hotel, known as the Juliann House, and became the town's second elected sheriff for the term 1858-59, defeating incumbent A.E. Bigelow by 100 votes, 438 to 338. His sawmill was destroyed by fire in 1857, and the rebuilding of which in 1858 may have been the cause of his resignation as sheriff during the latter part of his first term. This same sawmill was again destroyed by fire in January of 1862.

On September 22, 1862, Frederick Padden enlisted in the Union Army at West Union, Fayette County, Iowa, as a private in Company C, 6th Iowa Cavalry. At the time of his enlistment, he was described as 5-feet 10 1/2-inches tall with dark hair, dark eyes and "florid complexion." Unlike his brothers in blue who went South, his regiment was ordered to Fort Randall, Dakota Territory to be part of General Alfred Sully's expeditions to address the Great Sioux uprising of 1862. The Sioux took to the warpath as a result of whites encroaching on traditional hunting and fishing grounds, politically appointed Indian agents becoming wealthy on salaries of $1,500 a year and holding back goods that were to have been given to the Indians, overcharging the Sioux for goods on credit then taking the Indians' annuity as payment before they had even seen it, among other issues.

On September 3, 1863, Sully's command consisting of the 6th Iowa, 2nd Nebraska and elements of the 7th Iowa, totaling 600-700 troops, engaged about 1,500 Sioux at the Battle of White Stone Hill. Sully reported 20 soldiers killed during the engagement. Frederick Padden was one of 38 soldiers reportedly wounded during the battle, receiving a Sioux arrow in the thigh. Sully's troops decisively defeated the Sioux warriors and burned up more than 400-500 pounds of dried buffalo meat and other items of food, clothing and shelter the Sioux needed for survival. Sully reported that during the engagement and afterwards capturing 156 Sioux men and 32 women and children.

Frederick Padden's wound was treated at the post hospital, but complete recovery was not achieved and he was discharged for disability on January 20, 1865. He returned to Fredericksburg and filed for a military pension (Certificate #220877), which was granted because of the lingering problems his wound caused. Frederick Padden died at Fredericksburg, Iowa on August 8, 1867 as a result of the complications of the Sioux arrow wound, he had received at the Battle of White Stone Hill. He is buried in the West Cemetery, Dresden Township, Fredericksburg, Iowa alongside his wife and other members of his family.

Of note, his brother, Loren Padden (1846-1910) enlisted in Company F, 9th Iowa Infantry on February 27, 1864 and was part of the forces on Sherman's March to the Sea." At the time of his enlistment, he was described as 5-feet 6-inches tall with a light complexion, hazel eyes, and sandy hair. He was discharged on July 18, 1865 at Louisville, Kentucky, after which he returned to Fredericksburg where he was a farmer.

NEVADA VOLUNTEER OFFICERS

Part 1 - Introduction

(Short biographies of some of the officers will be prepared for future issues of the Carlin Dispatch)

By David A. Davis, PCC

On April 2, 1863, Brigadier General George Wright, Commander of the Department of the Pacific, sent the following request to Acting Nevada Territorial Governor Orion Clemens asking for companies of cavalry and infantry.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC,
San Francisco, Cal., April 2, 1863.

His Excellency O. CLEMENS,
Governor of Nevada Territory, Carson City, Nev.:

SIR: I have been authorized by the War Department to raise volunteer companies in Nevada Territory for the purpose of moving east on the Overland Mail Route in the direction of Great Salt Lake City. If it is possible to raise three or four companies in the Territory for this service, I have to request Your Excellency may be pleased to have them organized. I should be glad to get two companies of cavalry and two of infantry; the mounted troops to furnish their own horses and equipments. Arms, ammunition, &c., will be furnished by the United States. Should Your Excellency consider it probable that this volunteer force can be raised, even one company will be accepted. I will send you a plan of organization and an officer with the necessary instructions for mustering them into the service.

With great respect, I have the honor to be, your obedient servant,
G. WRIGHT,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Army, Commanding.

This would eventually be followed by several more requests that would finally ask for a full regiment each of cavalry and infantry. The Territorial Legislature voted $100,000 to fund the effort. While full regimental status was never reached, 1158 men did answer the call, and six full cavalry companies and three full infantry companies were formed. Four more infantry companies were attempted but never completed. Thirty-five of these men served as officers as noted in the last table. Notice that many moved up in rank and served in different companies. Also, note a few started as enlisted men.

Before companies could be formed, the officers were first chosen, and the enlistment burden fell to the company commanders. The officer received $10 per man enlisted, but a company first had to be fully recruited, transported to Fort Churchill, accepted, and mustered in. Prior to that, feeding, housing, and transporting these men came out of the officer's pockets. Nevada did provide a monthly bonus to the standard pay of officers and enlisted men. The monthly officer's pay and bonus was for cavalry / infantry / bonus: Lieutenant $53.33 / $50 / $25; Captain $70 / $60 / $35; Major $80 / $70 / $40; Lt. Colonel $95 / $80 / $45; and Colonel $110 / $95 / $50. For comparison, a private got $13 / $13 / $5 plus 40c per diem for bringing his own horse. The average miner in Virginia City was paid about $100 per month. Following is a table of the initial company formation details.

COMPANY	*NO. OF MEN	FIRST COMMANDERS	RECRUITED LOCATIONS	MUSTERED IN	MUSTERED OUT
Cavalry Co. A	139	Captain Elias B. Zabriskie	Carson City, Dayton, Gold Hill, Silver City, Virginia City	August 1863	July 12, 1866

Infantry Co. B	129	Captain George A. Thurston	Gold Hill, Silver City, Virginia City	April 1864	December 15, 1865
Infantry Co. C	129	Captain John G. Kelly	Gold Hill, Silver City, Virginia City	June 1864	December 23, 1865
*Total number from Adj.-Gen. List. 24 entries are of men listed more than once as rank or company changed
Not included are men who enlisted directly in at Fort Churchill, Camps Nye and Douglas, and elsewhere
Mustering in sometimes took several months and this is usually the earliest mustering in date
